Development Snapshot

Insights

While January is already behind us, you can still make good on a New Year's resolution to be more engaged in planning efforts in 2024! The last page of this report helps make sure you stay in the loop, and includes upcoming meetings, volunteer opportunities, and more.

We hope you resolve to build community and knowledge this year - our planning efforts are better when you're a part of them!

DESIGN REVIEW

Design review is required for certain projects within the City's urban design and historic preservation zoning overlays. The vast majority of these reviews are completed at the staff level, however certain types of projects require D/DRC review.

All applications for the Bailey Bill tax abatement program must be reviewed by the D/DRC per ordinance; you can learn more about the Bailey Bill and other preservation incentives here.

Land Development Reviews

Approval for Major Subdivisions and Major Site Plans is granted at the Planning Commission level, whereas Minor Subdivisions and Minor Site Plans are reviewed solely by staff for compliance with the Unified Development Ordinance (UDO). Major Subdivisions are subdivisions of lots where platting, construction, opening, or extension of at least one of the following occurs: new streets, improvement of existing streets, water or sewer facilities, storm drainage facilities, and other utilities. Major Site Plans propose at least one of the following: nonresidential development of 100,000 square feet or greater, multi-family development of more than 25 units, or the development of new principal uses and structures on a lot.

Planning & Development News

D/DRC annual report released!

Every year, the Design/ Development Review Commission reviews dozens of projects proposed for Columbia's urban design and historic districts. This year, planning staff compiled statistics for the projects reviewed by the commission into a complete Annual Report.

The report breaks down the types of projects that the D/DRC reviewed in 2023, provides a status update on each project, and highlights completed projects. Read the report to find out more about the work approved by the D/DRC in 2023.

Coming Soon: Downtown Strategic Master Planning Process

City Council recently voted to approve a contract with MKSK to initiate a strategic master planning process for downtown Columbia. This public planning process will help articulate a vision for future development of the downtown area.

Help Make Sure We All Count!

With the help of staff and volunteers, the Planning Division routinely conducts Pedestrian & Bicyclist counts throughout Columbia. This helps ensure that all of the City's residents count: transit riders, pedestrians, and bicyclists are often not accounted for in traffic studies – the same traffic studies used to make important decisions about our City's landscape.

After the close of each year's counts, we work to analyze and report on the data received, and you can find past reports here: bit.ly/COC_counts. We're still putting the finishing touches on our 2023 report, but that data analysis is why you'll see some new count locations on the list this year - so sign up early for your pick of count locations!

Set aside two hours this April + mark your calendars to join us - the online sign up portal will be available shortly.

- » Saturdays, April 6, 13, and 20, 10:00am-noon
- » Weekdays (Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays), April 9-11 and 16-18, 7:30-9:30am

Save the dates: Community Planning Charrette

The Central Midlands Council of Governments (CMCOG), the City of Columbia, and Richland County invite you to attend a week-long Community Planning Charrette February 26 - March 1 for the Reaching Riverbanks Community Mobility Plan. The charrette will offer community members multiple opportunities to engage the project team to help them better understand the study area and develop the plan and its recommendations. It will take place at various locations in the Riverbanks study area. Specific details will be provided as the date approaches.

Find out more about the planning process here: bit.ly/ReachingRiverbanks
